

Salemon S. Weyers
Counsel & Executive Vice President

Background

Salemon S. Weyers read Law at the Rand Afrikaans University (Johannesburg) and the University of Port Elizabeth, and was bestowed with the degrees B. Proc. and LLB respectively. He was called to the Bar at the age of 25, and became an Advocate of the High Court of South Africa and member of IAASA in 1996.

In 1999 he entered the side bar profession and in 2000 was admitted as an Attorney of the High Court of South Africa and became a member of the Cape Law Society. He resumed practice for his own account until taking up position with St. George's Trust Company Limited in July 2008.

He practiced law before the Lower, Higher and Appeal Courts of both Local and Provincial Divisions of the South African High Court. His practice mainly concerned contentious matters, and he represented corporate and private clients in matters relating to fiduciary actions, breaches and disputed corporate transactions. He furthered his education in International Trade, Advanced Corporate and Securities Law, and International Trust Management (International Trusts and Companies).

Salemon's professional interests include the continued furtherance of fiduciary services to an exceptional level by the use of a corporate mix of sound academic principles, tailor made solutions, and above all honesty, integrity, and innovative team work.

Professional Associations

Member

Cape Law Society

Society of Trust and Estate Practitioners (Student)

Personal

Salemon married Megan in 2001 and they have two children, Stephan (5), and Tara Jane (2) and he is colloquially named by his initials (S.S.). He is an ocean sport fanatic and competitively paddles surf-skis.